

Angry Email Assignment

Read:

"Hit the 'Send' Button. Then Hit the Door"

Respond:

Write a short 250-500 word post discussing one of the examples in the reading. Try to tell me why the example you chose is interesting to you, and how you would have handled the situation. Would you have burned that particular bridge? Would you have found a more reserved way to express yourself?

Also, have you ever sent an angry email? If you feel comfortable talking about it, the experience might be pertinent to this assignment.
