

Resume Tutorial Hunt

(Originally a discussion board)

There is a lot of information available about the best way to put together a resume. Some research can help you develop a sense of what people tend to agree or disagree about. This discussion board allows the class to develop a collective resource to help guide decisions about resume design.

To this end, please post at least 5 online tutorials that offer advice on resume preparation and write 250-500 words about what kinds of advice and ideas you find. Make sure you list your sources (doesn't have to be MLA citations, hyperlinks are fine, but make sure they work) so that your peers can access the resources you share.
