Week 13: April 6, 2023

Topics
Practice: thinking through data; analyzing data
Practice: writing up research

Read for Class:

- Gitelman, L. (2013). “Raw data” is an oxymoron. Cambridge, MA: MIT Press (scan the intro; skim chapter 1)

Do for class:

- Post a favorite article that shows some good writing and/or organization in our shared google drive.

In class:

- Returning to our classroom example, we will look at some additional data and try to hone a research question into something fully researchable
- looking at our classroom example and the data (again)
- what questions or comments do you have about your current understanding of methodologies, methods, and practices

Academics need to normalize saying

"I define __ as..."
"In this paper, I argue..:"
"First, I will... Then, I will..."

I'm sick of trying to follow your dense writing. Please be clear and use signals!!!
